PROBABLE CAUSE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATION TO COUNCIL

CASE NO. 008-579-12-20

1. William K. Lawrence is certified (Basic Law Enforcement).
2. Officer Lawrence was employed with the most recent law enforcement unit from 09/01/1980, until his career retirement on 08/06/2021.
3. Officer Lawrence is not currently employed by a law enforcement unit.
4. Officer Lawrence self-reported his arrest from 12/11/2020.
5. Officer Lawrence did submit a response to this investigation (see Attachment "A").

CASE SUMMARY

On 12/10/2020, Mr. Bradley, the District Attorney for the Ocmulgee Judicial Circuit, requested the Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) to investigate an allegation of an Excessive Use of Force complaint made against Eatonton Police Chief Lawrence. The complaint alleged Chief Lawrence physically assaulted Ms. Childress while she was in the custody of the Eatonton Police Department. GBI Special Agent (SA) Loving was assigned this investigation.

According to the GBI Investigative Summary, the following information was provided: Ms. Childress was arrested by Eatonton Police Officer Bowman on 12/08/2020, for Driving Under the Influence (DUI); he transported Ms. Childress to the police department; he left the room, but returned when he heard a commotion, and witnessed Chief Lawrence repeatedly hitting Ms. Childress. Officer Lawrence was unsure if Chief Lawrence struck Ms. Childress with an open or closed hand, or where she was hit. It was reported that Officer Bowman's body worn camera (BWC) was not activated until he witnessed Officer Lawrence strike Ms. Childress; however, Officer Welch's BWC would have been activated during this incident.

SA Loving and ASAC Hargrove interviewed Officer Bowman on 12/10/2020. He confirmed he arrested Ms. Childress for DUI as a result of a traffic stop and transported her to the police department. He requested Officer Welch to administer the breath test while he worked on his report, and he left the building at one point to go to the impound lot. He advised he was notified by Officer Welch that Ms. Childress was not cooperating. When he returned to the station, Officer Welch was reading Ms. Childress implied consent, requesting a blood sample, and she agreed. Officer Bowman asked Officer Welch to transport Ms. Childress to the hospital, and she drove her patrol vehicle around to the front of the building; he said that he removed the handcuffs from Ms. Childress, where they had been attached to the holding bar, and as he was removing it in order to handcuff Ms. Childress' wrist in front of her, she was refusing to give him her arm, and he had to grab her a "little forcefully, but not hard." Officer Bowman said Ms. Childress refused to walk down the hallway, so he was pulling her, and when they reached the doorway, she "fell" to the floor. After a period of time, emergency medical services (EMS) was contacted in regards to coming to the police station to draw the blood sample, and while they were waiting for them to arrive, Ms. Childress remained on the floor. Officer Bowman described

Ms. Childress yelling, screaming, rolling around, and said he was unable to get her to stand up and sit in a chair. Officer Bowman said Ms. Childress was not combative, but she was non-compliant, and obviously intoxicated. Officer Bowman said Chief Lawrence, Officer Welch, Ms. Thomas (Municipal Clerk), and Dispatcher Rollins were in the area while Ms. Childress was on the floor. Officer Bowman said Chief Lawrence was telling Ms. Childress to "get her fat ass up." Officer Bowman said he tried to convince Ms. Childress to get up, but she remained on the floor.

Officer Bowman said he did not observe Ms. Childress being aggressive; however, Chief Lawrence started slapping her on the top side of her head, with an open hand. Officer Bowman advised he believed from what he heard, it was seven (7) to ten (10) slaps, and he believed it had to hurt. Officer Bowman described Chief Lawrence grabbing a "handful" of Ms. Childress' hair and pulling it forward as he (Lawrence) told her to "get her fat ass up."

At one point, Officer Bowman said he and Chief Lawrence were pulling Ms. Childress to the front door by using a rug. Officer Bowman said EMS had arrived and provided a MegaMover to lift Ms. Childress up and into the back of Officer Welch's patrol vehicle. Officer Bowman said Chief Lawrence wanted Ms. Childress charged with Obstruction and Disorderly Conduct; however, he did not want to take those charges as he viewed her as being intoxicated and non-compliant. Officer Bowman confirmed his BWC was off as he was working on his report, but once he witnessed Chief Lawrence's actions, he re-activated it. Officer Bowman said he contacted Investigator Cardwell about the incident.

SAC Chandler met with Chief Lawrence outside of the police department, initially to only inform him that the GBI was at the police department to investigate the Use of Force complaint that was filed against him. SAC Chandler wrote that Chief Lawrence began discussing the incident with her, and he confirmed several times that he slapped Ms. Childress in the face six (6) to eight (8) times, but added he never hit her. He said Ms. Childress was drunk, and she was approximately 400 lbs., and he could not "pick her fat ass up." Chief Lawrence said they all had to pick a handle up (referring to the MegaMover) to put Ms. Childress in the vehicle. He said he called Ms. Childress' daughter, Ms. Maddox, and told her she could pick Ms. Childress up at the hospital and sign her bond.

Chief Lawrence said Ms. Childress would have marks on her arms from the handcuffs, and mentioned that she had been banging on the wall. Chief Lawrence told SAC Chandler that she would probably see it on film, and him saying "wake your ass up." Chief Lawrence said he grabbed Ms. Childress by her handcuffs and started sliding her through the doorway because she would not get up.

SAC Chandler advised Chief Lawrence that the allegation was of Excessive Use of Force while Ms. Childress was handcuffed, and she asked him if it was too much, and he responded, no, that to him it was not. Chief Lawrence said he was not slapping Ms. Childress intentionally; he was just trying to get her to wake up. He said he told her to 'wake your drunk ass up.' Chief Lawrence said Officer Tippens processed Ms. Childress the next day, and he may have had his camera on. Note: While reviewing Officer Welch's BWC footage, Ms. Childress was in an adjacent room as Officer Welch was preparing the Intoxilzyer machine. Ms. Childress could be heard yelling at and for Officer Welch, and metal sounds of banging could be heard. A copy of the audio of SAC Chandler speaking with Chief Lawrence is contained in the case file

During Officer Welch's interview, she confirmed she first went to the location of the traffic stop and Ms. Childress was already in the backseat of Officer Bowman's vehicle, yelling that she could not breathe. She went to the police station to administer the breath test on Ms. Childress at Officer Bowman's request. Officer Welch said she un-handcuffed Ms. Childress from the bar on the wall, so that she could blow into the Intox machine, but she did not provide a sufficient sample, and she was stumbling and falling around. Officer Welch said she re-read Implied Consent to Ms. Childress, requested a blood test, and she agreed. Officer Welch said she left to move her vehicle to the front of the building, and when she entered the front door, Ms. Childress was on the floor in the hallway (in front of Chief Lawrence's office). Officer Welch said Officer Bowman and Chief Lawrence tried unsuccessfully several times to get Ms. Childress up from the floor by grabbing her arms to lift her up; she said Ms. Childress would lock her legs and push against them. Officer Welch said that due to her own medical issues, she was unable to assist them with this.

Officer Welch confirmed Chief Lawrence "popped" Ms. Childress "upside the head" approximately two (2) times, and told her to wake up. Officer Welch said these strikes were open handed and on the upper part of Ms. Childress' head. Officer Welch said she could not say if the strikes were hard, and when asked if the slaps would have hurt, stated it would depend, as the slaps might have hurt a sober person, but she did not think it would have hurt Ms. Childress due to her intoxication.

Officer Welch said she did not see Chief Lawrence pull Ms. Childress' hair, nor did she recall her being called any derogatory names, though she said it could have happened. Officer Welch said Ms. Childress may have stated, "not to hit her." Officer Welch described Ms. Childress as rolling around on the floor to keep anyone from helping her. Officer Welch advised EMT Sanders would have witnessed some of this event.

Municipal Clerk Thomas said she observed Ms. Childress on her stomach on the floor; she said she was handcuffed in front. Ms. Thomas said Ms. Childress was saying she wanted to talk to her daughter, she was crying a lot, and sounded intoxicated. She said they were trying to get her to sit in the chair; however, Ms. Childress just laid on the floor. Ms. Thomas said she never saw anyone hit Ms. Childress.

Dispatcher Rollins said Chief Lawrence slapped Ms. Childress several times, either striking her shoulder or head with an open hand, and that he pulled Ms. Childress to the lobby by either her arms or the handcuffs. She also observed Chief Lawrence pull Ms. Childress's hair. She advised that she heard Ms. Childress state several times that "you hit me."

EMT Sanders said during his interview that Ms. Childress was handcuffed to the front, and he never saw anyone holding Ms. Childress down, but he did observe Chief Lawrence pulling her by her handcuffs. EMT Sanders advised he did observe Chief Lawrence slap Ms. Childress with an open hand, telling her to wake up, and talk to this man, referring to him (Sanders). EMT Sanders said Ms. Childress seemed dazed, but he did not think the slaps were hard, that they were only done to get her attention, and she said "stop, stop". He said Ms. Childress was not passed out, just not cooperating or responding. EMT Sanders said they would not transport Ms. Childress to the hospital because she was not a patient, but they did assist in getting her into the patrol car with their MegaMover. He described Ms. Childress as being limp, and she would not help, she was just lying there, and not compliant, just dead weight. He said he never heard Ms. Childress voice any complaint about her head hurting, that she only wanted her phone to call her daughter.

EMT Franklin advised she went to the police department with EMT Sanders, but stayed in the vehicle until she saw them bringing Ms. Childress out of the front door on a rug. EMT Franklin then joined them outside, and retrieved their MegaMover from the ambulance to assist in placing Ms. Childress in the police vehicle.

During Ms. Childress' interview, she said she was intoxicated; she recalled the traffic stop, rolling around on the floor, and falling to the floor. Ms. Childress said she believed three (3) to four (4) officers shoved her down, were on her back, "roughed" her up, and "attacked" her from behind. She said she received two (2) to three (3) punches to the back of her head, but did not know who did it. Ms. Childress believed she was handcuffed in the back. Note: while this investigator reviewed BWC footage, these details were not observed.

Ms. Childress said she did not know if she resisted, but said she lost her balance and fell while inside of the police station. Ms. Childress said she did not know if she was dragged, but she was picked up by the handcuffs. SA Loving noted that while interviewing Ms. Childress, she took photos of Ms. Childress' injuries, which included a picture of the bruising to her wrists. The photos are included in the case file.

On 12/11/2020, SA Loving secured arrest warrants for Chief Lawrence for the following charges: two (2) counts of Simple Battery; one (1) count for striking Ms. Childress's head multiple times while she was handcuffed and another count for grabbing the back of Ms. Childress' hair and pulling it. In addition, Chief Lawrence was charged with one (1) count of Battery, for causing Ms. Childress visible bodily harm by dragging her across the floor by the handcuffs on her wrists.

During the course of the investigation, GBI agents were never able to locate a copy of Chief Lawrence's Oath of Office form, and even executed a search warrant of the offices at the police department, reviewed Chief Lawrence's personnel file, and reviewed the minutes from the agenda when he was initially appointed Chief. In addition, GBI Investigators interviewed Officer Clemons, who was a thirty-five (35) year employee and asked about his Oath of Office; he said he did not recall signing an Oath of Office, but confirmed his signature on one shown to him by agents, although it was not dated.

Investigator Cardwell confirmed Chief Lawrence called him on 12/08/2020, in regards to obtaining warrants for a female for obstruction; he said this was normal as he does the majority of warrants. Investigator Cardwell said he was told that she was DUI and not being compliant; he said he may have been told that she was fighting, but by the time he got there, she was no longer at the police station. Investigator Cardwell said he was told they would just do tickets, and that this was normal as well. He said Officer Bowman contacted him later and told him that he was concerned about the events that had occurred, and he believed Ms. Childress was mistreated. Investigator Cardwell said he told Officer Bowman to talk to the Chief about it, and he said okay.

SA Loving noted in her summary that when she reviewed the BWC footage, she observed the following: Officer Bowman's BWC footage of the traffic stop and arrest of Ms. Childress and where he activated and de-activated his BWC while at the police department, along with Officer Welch's BWC when she arrived at the traffic stop, and her BWC footage while at the police department and the hospital. SA Loving noted that in video four (4) of five (5) from Officer Bowman's BWC, Chief Lawrence can be seen grabbing Ms. Childress's hair. In addition, SA Loving noted the interaction between Chief Lawrence, with him telling Ms. Childress to get "her fat ass up," and Ms. Childress saying that they had "beat" her. SA Loving wrote that while Ms. Childress was complaining that Chief Lawrence was hurting her legs, multiple slaps could be heard, as well as Chief Lawrence saying he was going to hit her "upside the head," and he then "appeared to drag" her into the lobby by the handcuffs secured to her wrists. SA Loving documented she viewed that once they were in the lobby, Ms. Childress questioned Chief Lawrence about calling her a derogatory name, and in response Chief Lawrence appeared to slap her face, and Ms. Childress said he slapped her. SA Loving said it appeared again that Chief Lawrence slapped Ms. Childress on the head while trying to pick her up off the ground, and that he told her to get her "fat ass up" and threatened to drag her on the pavement. A copy of the GBI case file, including the BWC footage noted is contained in the case file.

This investigator reviewed Officers Welch and Bowman's BWC from the time of the traffic stop, while at the police station, and at the hospital. Ms. Childress did not fall down until being escorted through the hallway of the police station to be placed into Officer Welch's vehicle for transport for the blood drawn, and/or the county jail. Ms. Childress remained on the floor while Officer Bowman completed his paperwork, then he and Chief Lawrence attempted to help Ms. Childress up again; it appeared Chief Lawrence pulled Ms. Childress from the hallway into the lobby by her handcuffs. She was eventually placed on a rug that was in the front lobby, which Chief Lawrence and Officer Bowman used to drag her through the front door. Ms. Childress' demeanor fluctuated during the course of the encounter with officers, from at times being remorseful, then demanding to call her daughter and having her handcuffs removed, to rolling around on the floor, crying again, then asking if she could go home. It appears that the Use of Force complaint came from an exchange between Ms. Childress and Chief Lawrence that began at approximately 44:41 minutes into Officer Welch's BWC footage. At approximately 45:36 on Officer Welch's BWC footage, Ms. Childress mentioned being slapped in the face, and Chief Lawrence responded that he was trying to wake her up, and that she had been on the floor asleep. Chief Lawrence and Officer Bowman were seen attempting to help Ms. Childress up without success. A chair was put next to Ms. Childress in an effort to allow her to pull herself up, but she never did. Note: Although Chief Lawrence could be heard making a comment about dragging her across the asphalt, they used the rug from the lobby to drag her toward the patrol car. The "MegaMover" from EMT's Franklin and Sanders ambulance was eventually used to lift Ms. Childress into Officer Welch's patrol vehicle.

On 01/25/2021, a notarized written response was received from Chief Lawrence (see Attachment "A").

On 04/21/2022, the court granted Chief Lawrence's motion to dismiss. It was noted the Solicitor and Chief Lawrence's attorney conferred, "then jointly request that the Court rule on this motion based on their in court verbal stipulations, argument of counsel and from viewing of video recordings of the incident." In addition, it was noted that the Court was familiar with the videos and "was of the opinion that without additional evidence from the prosecution showing that" Chief Lawrence "used unreasonable force or acted with intent to harm" Ms. Childress, the actions of Chief Lawrence shown in the videos without more were insufficient to establish that his conduct was unjustified.

Judge Dana wrote the following factors that faced Chief Lawrence: being "how to move an uncooperative, profane, extremely drunk, out of control 300 to 400-pound woman from where she flopped on the police station floor to the hospital or jail." He noted Chief Lawrence as well as the other officers and personnel involved went above and beyond the call of duty in dealing with Ms. Childress in such a difficult situation in a reasonable manner. Judge Dana also mentioned Ms. Childress was commanded, asked, begged, cajoled, and pleaded with to cooperate, and she ignored their requests, and that she was too big to lift. A copy of the Order Granting Dismissal is contained in the case file.

Investigator Canup,

This letter is in response to the Eatonton Police Department case # 12-1254-2020 on the arrest of Tina D. Childress. On December 8, 2020 I came to the police department. where Ms. Childress was in the squad room hooked to the wall hollering, cussing and being very disorderly. I told her that she needed to do what the officer was telling her to do and I told her her she was tore up from the floor up. I then left the room. A little bit later I came out of my office and Ms. Childress was laying on the floor and I stepped over her. Sitting on Jody Sellers' desk was Ms. Childress' pocketbook. I looked in it and I could plainly see a pill bottle prescribed to Ms. Childress for Tylenol 3 for eighteen (18) pills and six (6) were missing leaving only twelve (12) in the bottle. I told Officer Harold Bowman with the alcohol content and that many Tylenol it's a good possibility why she is tore up.

At this time EMS was called to come to the police department to help with Ms. Childress who was laying on the lobby floor at the Eatonton Police Dept. At this time we were trying to get her in the chair. Tae Rollins, Dispatcher was trying to help get her in the chair and Tae stated that she is not trying to get in the chair at all. We moved the chair and she laid in the floor and went to sleep. After a few minutes waiting on EMS to arrive, I tapped Ms. Childress on her left cheek and I said wake your drunk ass up. Then I got her hair to keep her from hitting her head on the concrete floor and this is when EMS arrived. EMT Renardo Sanders did a blood sugar test on her. At this point and time, Officer Harold Bowman, Tae Rollins, EMT Sanders and EMT Angelia Franklin and myself, Chief Lawrence, got the rug and slid her to the door where EMT Sanders told EMT Franklin to go get the mega mover from the ambulance. We put her on it and all of us had handles so we could tote her and put her in Officer Pat Welch's patrol car. Officer Welch left and took Ms. Childress to Putnam General Hospital. I came back in the dispatch office with Tae Rollins and she found a phone number for her daughter Tiffany Maddox and she got her on the phone for me. I told Tiffany that her mother was at the hospital and was being charged with DUI and failure to maintain lane. I advised her to come to the hospital and sign a bond and to take her mother home. At this time the bond was filled out and I gave it to Officer Harold Bowman to take to the hospital to get Tiffany to sign it. I also told her to bring her mother to the police dept. the next day for processing if she was sober.

On December 9, 2020 Tiffany brought her mother to the police dept. and I met them in the lobby. Ms. Childress apologized for acting the way she did and then she hugged me. I told her she was too old to be doing this. Tiffany stated that her mother needed to go to rehab. I told her that is what court is for. Officer Dennis Tippens came to the police dept. to process Ms. Childress. She asked me if she could write a check for $ 150.00 for her wrecker bill and hold it until Monday, Dec. 14, 2020, which I did.
